

N. E. Gasholl. 1819

Decorative floral border

THE HISTORY
OF
Sir Richard Whittington

DICK WHITTINGTON, the hero of this History, was but a little boy when his father and mother died; so young indeed, that he neither knew them, nor the place where he was born. After strolling about the country as ragged as a colt for some time, he met with a waggoner going to London, who gave him leave to walk all the way by the side of his waggon, without paying a

A 3 thi